

Meditative Landscapes: by Marty Büch

Marty Büch is pseudonym for Martijn van Mierlo.

Used with video projects on youtube channels 'Hiking with Marty' & Meditative Landscapes. The content on HwM varies from hiking, meditative landscapes, and car ride videos and some other 'specials', and is still growing. This second channel; 'Meditative Landscapes' contains only the landscape videos of longer duration and higher quality in images and view and have a stronger relation to the arts of landscape photography.

Meditative Landscapes

A channel for Meditative Landscape videos with extended length from 6, 8 to 12 hours. Often videos related to 30 or 60 minute versions on the original main channel (HikingwithMarty). But also unique single shot films of longer length or are to be found here.

The videos are inspired by the paintings of the Russian art movement that formed the Peredvizhniki As well inspired by other landscape movements such as 'De Haagse School' (the Hague School) or such as photography movements as 'New Topographics', this is where Marty Büch and Martijn van Mierlo's work intertwine and find correlation. In the Meditative Landscape videos the often quite romantic yet full documentation yet full of realism comes alive, it is as watching an alive painting, where the viewer can enjoy the landscape, contemplate, think about what one sees, but above all enjoy the sound and landscape and able to relax, meditated, relief stress or do re- and overthink.

A Meditative Landscape: The Itinerant aka the Wanderer:*

Series of Meditative Landscape videos (extended duration) for stress-relief, meditation, relaxation, enjoying nature virtually from home. Inspired by the Russian art movement of the Peredvizhniki also known as 'The Wanderers' or 'The Itinerants' in English. Who were a group of Russian Realist painters in the 1870's, often depicting social (rural) life and landscapes. And can be understood as precursors of the later documentary photography movements. These videos are static landscapes inspired by these paintings, and together with the soundscape can be experienced as their equivalent, As of a paintings coming alive. And enjoyed as backgrounds in all type of settings.

Peredvizhniki, often called The Wanderers or The Itinerants in English, were a group of Russian realist artists who formed an artists' cooperative in protest of academic restrictions; it evolved into the Society for Travelling Art Exhibitions in 1870.

itinerant /ɪˈtɪn(ə)r(ə)nt, ˌɪˈtɪn(ə)r(ə)nt/

adjective

adjective: itinerant (travelling from place to place.) "itinerant traders"

noun

noun: itinerant; plural noun: itinerants (a person who travels from place to place.)

Origin

Inspiration and examples

Vasily Polenov - traditional Russian courtyard (1878)

Alexei Savrasov - The Rooks Have Come Back, near Ipatiev Monastery in Kostroma.

Above: Isaac Levitan - Birch Forest (1885-1889)

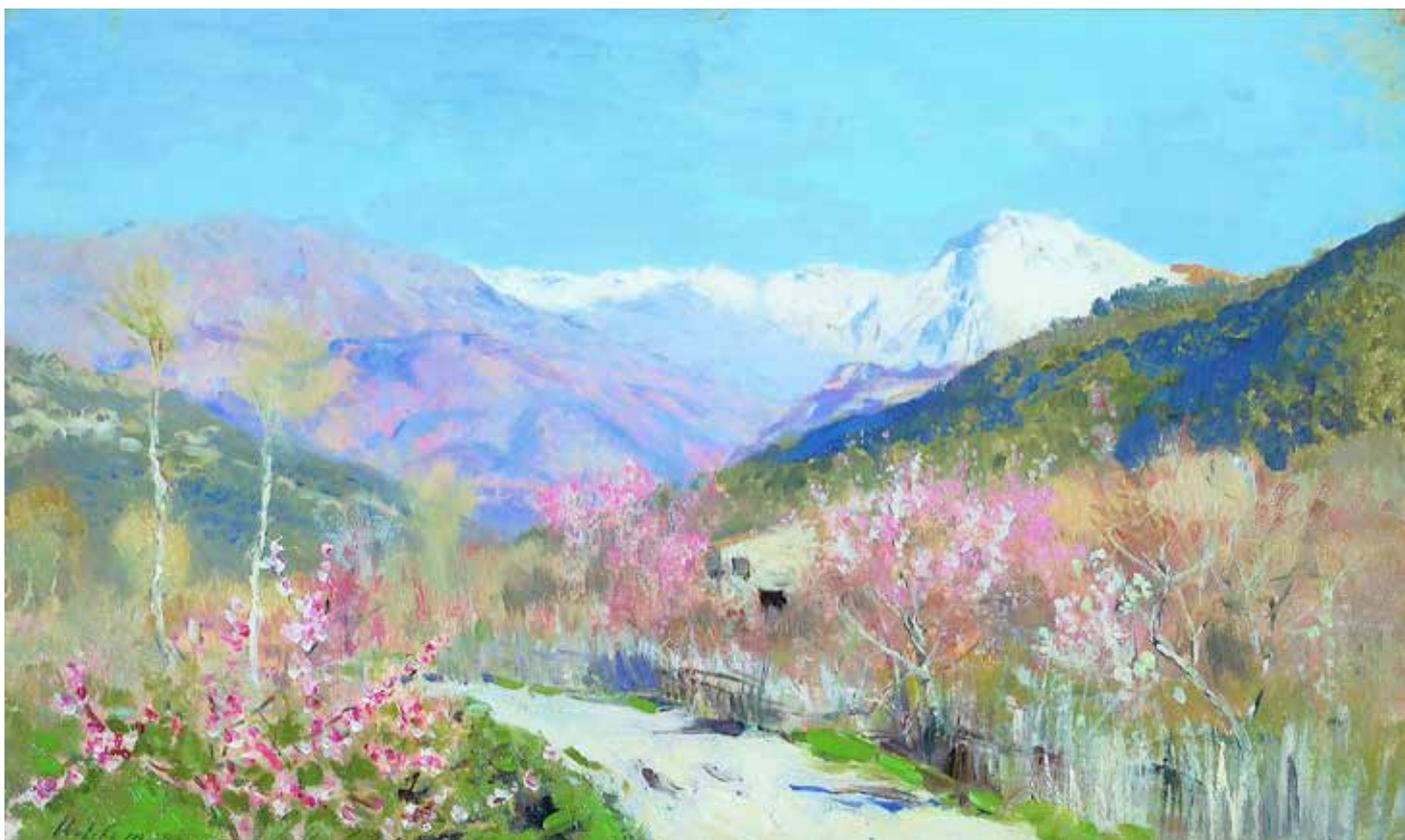

Below: Isaac Levitan - Evening bells (1892)

Above: Isaac Levitan - Lake. Russia 1900. The last, unfinished Levitan painting

Below: Isaac Levitan - Spring in Italy (1890)

Above: Isaac Shishkin

Below: Ivan Shishkin-Among the Open Valley, (1883)

Above: Ivan Shishkin - A Rye Field, (1878)

Below: Ivan Shishkin - Winter, (1890)

Above: Ivan Shishkin - At the Edge of the Pine Forest, (1898)

Below: Ivan Shishkin - Oak Grove, (1887)

Above: Alexei Savrasov - Sundown over a marsh, (1871)

Below: Arkhip Kuindzhi - Evening in Ukraine (1878–1901)

Above: Hendrik Willem Mesdag - Panorama Mesdag (1881)

Right: Marty Büch - Meditative Landscape: View on North Sea

Below: Anthonie Waldorp - Sailing ships in the harbor, (1862)

Above: Marty Büch - Video still: Meditative Landscape: Left: Waterfall Right: Sava River

Above: Marty Büch - Video still: Meditative Landscape: View on North Sea

Below: Marty Büch - Video stills: Meditative Landscape: Left: Spring meadow Right: Mountain Creek

